A sincere thank you to everyone who participated in our United Way fund drive. Forty seven percent of the College's full-time employees donated $3,493.16! I'm sure the thousands of citizens who benefit from United Way also thank you.

Also, special thanks to Jackie Klutts, Carole Boatright, and Carol Jenkins for their efforts in making the campaign a success.

Scott Stevens
Campaign Coordinator

Those who still have a WordStar 2000 Training Book (I or II) and/or a disk checked out, please return to Shari Swift, Public Information, or Judy LaGrone, President's Office, prior to November 4, 1988.

The Phi Rho Pi fund-raising auction is less than two weeks away! If you haven't yet donated a tax-deductible good or service, please consider doing so! All monies raised will be used to help send students to speech tournaments, and Phi Rho Pi needs your help! For more information, contact Shelley Lane, ext. 5821.

The Allen Information and Referral Service will be coordinating a Christmas Sponsorship Program for indigent families living in the Allen, Fairview, and Lucas areas. The Christmas Sponsorship Program will provide NEW, WARM CLOTHING to these needy children. Contributions are needed in three major areas: sponsorship, donations, and names of potential needy families. If you desire to contribute in any of these areas or have any questions, please call Stacy Brown-McDaniel, Allen Information and Referral Service, 214/727-9131.

STAFF NEWS:

JUANITA AUSTIN has been appointed to a three year term on the Plano Community Relations Committee by Mayor Jack Harvard and the Plano City Council. She will be sworn in at the City Council meeting Monday, November 14, 1988.

Pick up your Bijou Theatres schedule at the Library/LRC, second floor, SCC. Admission to the theatres is free, but children under 13 must be accompanied by a parent.

Listing of new books at the LRC at SCC:

Tuchman, Barbara

The First Salute

Pulitzer Prize-winning historian Tuchman's latest work gives us a deeply insightful view of certain pivotal events of the American Revolution.

Heller, Joseph

Picture This

An astonishing and sardonic view of our history by the author of Catch-Revolution.

Fearing, Don

Mansion on Turtle Creek Cookbook

One of America's best young chef shares his recipes from the Southwest. Fearing takes a sophisticated yet relaxed approach to elegant dining.

Simpson, Christopher

Blowback

A startling and authoritative account of the U.S. recruitment of high ranking Nazi scientists and officials following World War II.

FROM THE EDITOR:

Just a note of thanks to all faculty and staff who have submitted articles, announcements, and news to be published in the "Caleidoscope" so both our Central and Spring Creek Campuses are informed and up-to-date.

This is the 100th issue of the "Caleidoscope", only four issues away from the second year of being published. This space is being allowed for some of our faculty and staff to express their feelings about this institution. They were asked to respond to:

1. What do you like most about working for CCCC;
2. What is the most interesting event or situation experienced while working for CCCC; or
3. What is the most humorous event or situation experienced while working for CCCC.

And here's what they had to say:

"What I like most about working for CCCC is the friendliness and warmth shown by the faculty members. People are interested in you personally as well as professionally. Someone is always asking how I am doing as well as my family."

Mike Broyles
Professor of Physics (SCC)

"One of the many reasons I enjoy working at the College is the interaction with the students and faculty/staff. I have had the opportunity to get acquainted with people from all areas of education."

Wendy Burton, Administrative Assistant, Enterprise

(over)

"The challenging people is what I like most about working for CCCC."
Lew Conner, Director
Enrollment Management/Registrar

"I like working for the College because of the fine people that make up this institution."

Bill Dillingham, Director
Computer Services

"What I like most about working at CCCC is the very special people I work with everyday."

David Garrison, Ph.D.
Professor of History (SCC)

"I like the cafeteria cuisine best; I like the emergency warning system (the voice sounds so personable); next, I like the little ashtrays in the men's room. Seriously, though, I like the collegiality of this place. My colleagues inspire me, then I can inspire my students."

Tony Howard
English Professor (SCC)

"The one thing that I really enjoy about working for CCCC is the fact that I look forward to coming to work. Job satisfaction: it's great."

Tony McRae, Associate Dean
Division of Business and Industry

"The most humorous event I have experienced happened shortly after being employed by CCCC. A group of faculty and staff members moved me from one residence to another in Dallas. This group of movers convinced my neighbors that they were repossessing my furniture."

Janet Ross, Coordinator
Humanities/Philosophy (SCC)

"The thing I like most about working here is the people - the friendliness on a personal level, as well as the attitude of cooperation and professionalism with which problems are met and solved."

Ann Ruggles, Coordinator
Public Information

"The thing I like most about working here besides the energetic and genuinely dedicated faculty and staff, is that I appreciate the supportive atmosphere that allows, even encourages, risk-taking and creative problem solving."

Scott Stevens, Coordinator
Student Life

"I like working for CCCC because I like what we offer. Obviously, the staff and faculty are wonderful, the campuses are beautiful, and I get to eat lunch with my husband whenever I want (almost). But a deeper reason is that I feel proud to contribute to the business of education in my community--a profitable enterprise for us all."

Emily Wright, Continuing Education
Registration Clerk

"ENTER LAUGHING":

POLITICS: How To Tell Democrats From Republicans

Democrats buy most of the books that have been banned elsewhere, Republicans form censorship committees and read them as a group.

Republicans tend to keep their shades drawn, although there is seldom any reason why they should. Democrats ought to, but don't.

Republicans study the financial pages of the newspaper. Democrats put them in the bottom of the bird cage.

Democrats eat the fish they catch. Republicans hang them on the wall.

Republican boys date Democratic girls. They plan to marry Republican girls, but feel they're entitled to a little fun first.

Democrats make up plans and then do something else. Republicans follow the plans their grandfathers made.

Republicans sleep in twin beds - some even in separate rooms. That is why there are more Democrats.

A new political party has been formed and it uses the RHINOCEROS as its political symbol, since the rhino represents the best attributes of all politicians. It is dumb, thick-skinned, myopic, and loves to wallow in the mud.
