ENGLISH 1301 COURSE SYLLABUS – FALL 2018 (MWF)

COURSE INFORMATION

Course Number: ENGL 1301

Course Title: Composition/Rhetoric I

Course Description: Intensive study of and practice in writing processes, from invention and researching to drafting, revising, and editing, both individually and collaboratively. Emphasis on effective rhetorical choices, including audience, purpose, arrangement, and style. Focus on writing the academic essay as a vehicle for learning, communicating, and critical analysis. Lab required.

Course Credit Hours: 3

Lecture Hours: 3

Lab Hours: 1

Prerequisite: Meet TSI college-readiness standard for Reading and Writing; or equivalent.

College Repeat Policy: Beginning Fall 2016, Texas residents attempting a course more than twice at Collin College are subject to regular tuition plus an additional $50 per semester credit hour. Undergraduate courses attempted at Collin with a graded status of A, B, C, D, F, I, W (withdrawals after census), and AU will be evaluated for repeat limits.

Developmental Education (DE) courses are exempt from the additional tuition charge until the 27-hour threshold is met. Students in excess of 27 developmental education hours will be assessed the authorized $50 per hour additional tuition.

Student Learning Outcomes:

- State-mandated Outcomes: Upon successful completion of this course, students will:
 1. Demonstrate knowledge of individual and collaborative writing processes. (Teamwork, Communication Skills)
 2. Develop ideas with appropriate support and attribution. (Communication Skills)
 3. Write in a style appropriate to audience and purpose. (Communication Skills)
 4. Read, reflect, and respond critically to a variety of texts. (Critical Thinking)
 5. Use Edited American English in academic essays.
- Additional Collin Outcome: Upon successful completion of this course, students should be able to do the following:
 1. Demonstrate personal responsibility through the ethical use of intellectual property. (Personal Responsibility)

Withdrawal Policy: Drops after the term census date are considered withdrawals and appear as a "W" on the transcript. Students cannot withdraw on CougarWeb after the Census Date.

Prior to withdrawing, students should talk with their professors and/or their advisors. Student athletes, international students, and students receiving financial aid and/or veteran's benefits are required to notify the appropriate office prior to dropping or withdrawing from classes and to get written approval from that specific office.

Students who wish to withdraw from classes may do so:

- in person: Visit the Admissions and Records Office at any campus. Students will fill out a drop/withdrawal ticket to have it processed at the Admissions counter.
- by mail: The withdrawal request should include: student's name, CWID number, phone number, class/classes from which to withdraw, and reason for withdrawal (you're welcome to use Collin's Drop/Withdraw form). Student's signature is required on mailed requests. For mailed withdrawals, the postmark date is the official withdrawal date. See the Admissions and Records Office directory for mailing addresses.

Failure to drop or withdraw on or before the Last Day to Withdraw will result in a performance grade.

Students enrolled in an express class should contact the Admissions and Records Office for the last day to withdraw. Last day to withdraw varies according to the length of the class. Refunds will also vary.

Last day to withdraw with a “W” is Friday, October 19, 2018.

Collin College Academic Policies:

The College District may initiate disciplinary proceedings against a student accused of scholastic dishonesty. Scholastic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, statements, acts, or omissions related to applications for enrollment or the award of a degree, and/or the submission as one's own work material that is not one's own. Scholastic dishonesty may involve, but is not limited to, one or more of the following acts: cheating, plagiarism, collusion, use of annotated texts or teacher's editions, and/or falsifying academic records.

Plagiarism is the use of an author's words or ideas as if they were one's own without giving credit to the source, including, but not limited to, failure to acknowledge a direct quotation.

Cheating is the willful giving or receiving of information in an unauthorized manner during an examination, illicitly obtaining examination questions in advance, copying computer or Internet files, using someone else's work for assignments as if it were one's own, or any other dishonest means of attempting to fulfill the requirements of a course.

Collusion is intentionally aiding or attempting to aid another in an act of scholastic dishonesty, including but not limited to, providing a paper or project to another student; providing an inappropriate level of assistance; communicating answers to a classmate during an examination; removing tests or answer sheets from a test site, and allowing a classmate to copy answers.

Americans with Disabilities Act: Collin College will adhere to all applicable federal, state and local laws, regulations and guidelines with respect to providing reasonable accommodations as required to afford equal opportunity. It is the student's responsibility to contact the ACCESS office, SCC-D140 or 972.881.5898 (V/TTD: 972.881.5950) to arrange for appropriate accommodations. See the current Collin Student Handbook for additional information.

Course Resources:

Required textbooks:

Writing: Ten Core Concepts, 2nd edition by Robert P. Yagelski

ISBN-13: 978-1-305-95676-6

Attendance Policy: Attendance is very important in this class as all assignments and major concepts will be explained and discussed in class. If you miss the equivalent of two weeks of class or more (6 absences in a class that meets MWF), your semester grade will be dropped by one letter grade. If you are 10 minutes or later to class, you will be counted as absent. In addition, we will be working on drafts of papers in workshops and conferences, for which attendance is necessary. If you are absent on the day a major assignment is due and you have not contacted me PRIOR to that day's class to make arrangements to explain your absence and turn in your assignment/essay, the essay will NOT be accepted.

Caveat to Attendance Policy With the new “hard stop” Registration policy, which allows any student to self-register with no approval until 11:59pm on Thursday, August 30th (after the semester has already begun), it is important for those students to note that any class meetings or course work they miss prior to their entering the class WILL count against their semester average, meaning they will be counted absent for classes missed and they will NOT be able to make up any work missed on those days they were absent. Classes begin on August 27th, even if that student didn't register yet.

Writing Assignments:

Standard Deductions:

Students will write a total of five essays. If the student is assigned to bring a rough draft to class and fails to do so, there will be a 5 point deduction from the final essay grade in addition to receiving a “0” in the daily grades for that day's assignment/participation. If a student fails to attend a mandatory conference over an essay assignment, there will be a 5 point deduction from the final essay grade. Papers are to be turned in at the FIRST of the class period on the day they are due. Additionally, final drafts of all essays will be submitted both in hard copy and electronically in an online drop box on Blackboard. If the essay is not submitted to the drop box by the deadline, there will be a 5 point deduction.

Due dates:

Students are responsible for the assigned due date. If student cannot attend class on the day an assignment is due, they must notify the instructor PRIOR to missing class to make arrangements for turning in their paper. The student must still submit an electronic copy of the essay by the deadline to the online drop box.

Extra credit:

I offer extra credit opportunities for essays (unless the essay is written in class as a timed writing). You may earn 5 extra credit points added to the final grade of an essay by taking a draft to the Writing Center for a substantive tutoring session with one of the writing tutors. In order to receive these extra credit points, instructor must receive notice from Writing Center regarding student appointment (Students: keep your copy of this email notification from the Writing Center as backup of your visit with the tutor.) Note: Students are eligible for this extra credit before the essay's due date. They cannot get this after the essay has been graded as they prepare a revision.

Revisions:

*You may revise most essays ONE TIME to improve the project grade with the permission of the instructor. Final essay grade will then be an AVERAGE of the original grade plus the revision grade. For the revision essay to be accepted the revised paper MUST BE submitted by the date assigned by the instructor and the original graded packet MUST accompany the revision. Late revisions will NOT be accepted.

Lab Assignments:

The lab component is an integral part of this writing course. Over the course of the semester, you will need to complete a combination of assignments. This lab work is not the same as regular coursework that one must complete to stay on track in the class; these are, instead, designed to be additional writing-focused activities which will help improve writing throughout the term. Students will need to provide evidence of completing these lab requirements in order to receive credit for completing them.

For this ENGL 1301 course and this professor, students will be required to complete a series of Lab assignments (usually 8 – 10 individual assignments). These projects will be technology/grammar/research based and are an important part of learning the writing process. Labs have due dates and will be assigned throughout the semester. The Labs component of this course weighs as 15% of your total course grade. The course calendar will list when a Lab assignment will be handed out and the due date will be announced in class on that day (the due date is usually just prior to the next Lab assignment).

Vocabulary Words/Quizzes:

Students will be given vocabulary words and their definitions at the start of each class meeting. Please note these in your notebooks. The vocabulary words will not be posted online or anywhere else. If you miss a day, you need to check with a classmate to find out if you missed any vocabulary words that day. There will be 4 vocabulary quizzes during the semester. Each quiz will cover the words that have been given since the last quiz. Vocabulary quizzes are not eligible for make-up.

Method of Evaluation:

To pass this course, students must meet ALL course requirements.

Grading Essay Assignments:

DISCOURSE 75% total (approx.15% each):

Content: clearly stated main idea and thorough, logical support

Organization: clear introduction, orderly development, smooth transitions, sense of conclusion.

Syntax: correct sentence structure and varied sentence structure.

Wording: exact and appropriate word choice

Audience: be clear to intended audience and appropriate for audience.

MECHANICS 25% total (approx.10% each):

Usage, Punctuation, and Spelling

Your final semester grade will be determined by the following:

Grading System:

1 st essay & revision – Narrative Essay	10%
2 nd essay & revision - Comparison Essay	10%
3 rd essay & revision – Informative Essay	10%
4 th essay & revision – Cause/Effect Essay	15%
5 th essay & revision – Argument/Research Essay	15%
Daily Grades and Participation (in-class activities, quizzes, peer reviews, attendance)	20%
Lab Assignments	15%
Final Exam	5%

Semester Average Grading Format:

A= 100 – 89.5

B= 89.4 – 79.5

C= 79.4 – 69.5

D= 69.4 – 59.5

F= 59.4 – 0

Grading System for Attendance/Participation (Part of Daily grades):

Attendance/Participation will count for 50% of student's Daily Grades and will be calculated by percentage of absences (for instance, if student misses 10% of classes, their participation grade will be reduced to a 90). Student will have participation grade further reduced by an amount to be determined by instructor if they are not fully attentive in class (i.e. sleeping, chatting with other students during lecture or class discussion, texting, surfing the Internet, or anything else not directly related to class work).

All essays will be graded according to departmental standards for written work. A grade of ZERO will be applied if assignment does not meet requirements.
