Plagiarism is the use of an author’s words or ideas as if they were one’s own without giving credit to the source, including, but not limited to, failure to acknowledge a direct quotation.

Cheating is the willful giving or receiving of information in an unauthorized manner during an examination, illicitly obtaining examination questions in advance, copying computer or

Collusion is intentionally aiding or attempting to aid another in an act of scholastic dishonesty, including but not limited to, providing a paper or project to another student; providing an inappropriate level of assistance; communicating answers to a classmate during an examination; removing tests or answer sheets from a test site, and allowing a classmate to copy answers.

Attendance Policy

Attendance is very important in this class, as all assignments and major concepts will be explained and discussed in class. If you miss the equivalent of two weeks of classes or more (6 absences in a class that meets MWF) your semester grade will be dropped by one letter grade. In addition, we will be working on drafts of papers in workshops and conferences, for which attendance is necessary. If student is absent on the day a major assignment is due and has not contacted the instructor PRIOR to that day's class time to explain your absence and make arrangement for submitting assignment, the essay will NOT be accepted.

Caveat to Attendance Policy With the new "hard stop" Registration policy, which allows any student to self-register with no approval until 11:59pm on Friday, January 25th (after the semester has already begun), it is important for those students to note that any class meetings or course work they miss prior to their entering the class WILL count against their semester average, meaning they will be counted absent for classes missed and they will NOT be able to make up any work missed on those days they were absent. Classes begin on January 22nd, even if that student didn't register yet.

Method of Evaluation:

To pass this course, students must meet ALL course requirements.

Grading Written Assignments:

DISCOURSE 75% total (approx.15% each):

Syntax: correct sentence structure and varied sentence structure.

Wording: exact and appropriate word choice

Audience: be clear to intended audience and appropriate for audience.

MECHANICS 25% total (approx.10% each):

Usage, Punctuation, and Spelling

Your final grade semester grade will be determined by the following:

Grading System:

1 st essay & revision – Rhetorical Analysis Essay	10%
2 nd essay & revision - Visual Analysis Essay	15%
3 rd essay & revision – Argument/Research Essay #1 Proposing a Solution	20%
4 th essay & revision – Argument/Research Essay #2 Ethical Argument	20%
Daily Grades and Participation (in-class activities, peer reviews, attendance)	15%
Lab Units (8 technology/grammar/research related projects)	15%
Final Exam Essay – Response to Literature	5%

Grading Format (semester average):

A= 100 – 89.5

B= 89.4 – 79.5

C= 79.4 – 69.5

D= 69.4 – 59.5

F= 59.4 – 0

Grading System for Attendance/Participation (Part of Daily grades): Attendance/Participation will count for 50% of student's Daily Grades and will be calculated by percentage of absences. Student will have participation grade reduced by an amount to be determined by instructor if they are not fully attentive in class (i.e. sleeping, chatting with other students during lecture or class discussion, texting, surfing the Internet, or anything else not directly related to class work).

All essays will be graded according to departmental standards for written work. A grade of ZERO will be applied if assignment does not meet requirements.

*You may revise your essays ONE TIME to improve the project grade with the permission of the instructor. Final essay grade will then be an AVERAGE of the original grade plus the revision grade. For the revision essay to be accepted, the revised paper MUST be submitted by the date assigned by the instructor and the original MUST accompany the revision. Late revisions will NOT be accepted.

Extra credit is available for essays: Students may receive 5 points extra credit added to the final grade of their essay for taking a rough draft (BEFORE the due date, NOT during a revision) to the Writing Center for a tutoring session. Appointments are required for the Writing Center. Student must turn in tutoring session sheet with their submission of the essay or make sure the Writing tutor knows to send me a sheet through campus mail. Without the Writing Center tutoring sheet with the tutor's signature, extra credit will NOT be awarded. Note: Working with a Writing Center tutor through TutorText will be acceptable for extra credit as long as the session is substantive (not just one or two questions that take less than 10 minutes to discuss). Remember to have earned the extra credit, student must have the tutor email a copy of the transcript to me.

Further possible deductions on essays: While Peer Reviews count as a daily grade, it is an integral part of the writing process. If students do not have a rough draft prepared on the day of the Peer Review or do not submit their rough draft and Peer Review sheet with their final draft, there will be a 5 point deduction from the final grade for the essay. Also, if there is a mandatory conference with the instructor as part of the essay process, any student who does not attend their conference will see a 5 point deduction from the final grade of their essay. Electronic copies of all final drafts will also be submitted online through a TurnItIn drop box located in the Blackboard (in addition to the hard copy submitted in class). If the essay is not submitted online to the drop box there will be a 5 point deduction from the final grade of their essay.

*Electronic copies of all final drafts will also be submitted online through a TurnItIn drop box located in the Canvas (in addition to the hard copy submitted in class). If the essay is not submitted online to the drop box there will be a 5 point deduction from the final grade of the essay, for the first occurrence. If the student continues to miss uploading final drafts to the online drop boxes, the deduction will increase by 5 points for each occurrence.

To show proper upload of final draft to online drop boxes, students need to print or screen shot the Success message that the TurnItIn drop box will show. If printed in hard copy, student will need to include this copy in the packet they turn in during class. If screen shot, the student will need to email the screen shot to the instructor – for each essay. Doing this will help ensure the student does not receive a deduction if the system glitches and the instructor cannot see the uploaded file in the drop box. This print copy or screen shot is due on the essay's due date.

In addition to essay assignments, students will be required to complete 8 Lab assignments. These projects will be technology/grammar/research based and are an important part of learning the writing process. Labs have due dates and will not be accepted late. The Labs component of this course (all 8 labs averaged together) weighs as 15% of your total course grade.

If you are approved for make-up/late work, please note: NO make-up/late work will be accepted during Finals Week.
