Email Policy

Please use your official Collin email when contacting me. I will not discuss grades or other academic records via non-official email accounts (i.e., Gmail, Yahoo, Hotmail, etc). I will try to answer all emails within 24 hours during the work week. On weekends, I will respond to emails no later than Monday afternoon.

However, situations arise (just like in life) that may delay my response. Sometimes an email can become lost, overlooked, or simply missed. If that is the case and you do not receive a response from your initial email, please email me again with your inquiry or comment.

Course Description

Course Resources:

Mythology and Belief: A Humanities Reader (required)

Mythology and Belief for Readers and Writers, Second Edition (optional)

Required Supplies: Access to Canvas

Course Requirements:

1. A writing assessment will be conducted the first week of class.
2. Students must write a minimum of three closely graded essays (i.e., with oral and/or written instructor comments) of approximately 600 words each. At least one essay assignment will be written in class.
3. Students will be introduced to research and MLA documentation in the preparation and writing of argumentative or position essays. Students must incorporate the research into an essay through in-text citations and a Works Cited page.
4. The lab component, designed to support writing as a process and writing improvement, is an integral part of the course. Students are required to complete regular "lab assignments" such as outlines, multiple drafts, research activities, journals, reading responses, grammar and pre-writing exercises, revisions, etc., throughout the semester. To earn a passing grade, a student must complete the assigned lab component.
5. The English Department will furnish a set of departmental final exam topics for an in-class final exam essay, which will count a significant portion of a student's grade. Students may visit http://iws.ccccd.edu/jmiller/ENGL_1301_FINAL_EXAM_TOPICS.htm for sample essay topics and suggested strategies for writing an acceptable final in-class essay.

COURSE FORMAT: Lectures, class discussion, small group discussions, computer-assisted instruction, audio/visual materials, personal conferences, lab assignments, in-class writings/responses.

LAB INFORMATION

The lab component is an integral part of this writing course. This lab work is not the same as regular daily coursework that you must complete to stay on track in the class; it is instead designed to be additional writing-focused activities, which will help improve your writing throughout the term. During the semester, you will need to track and provide evidence of completing these lab requirements outside of class.

METHOD OF EVALUATION

10 points - Participation

30 points - Lab

50 points – Written Assignments

10 points - Final Exam

GRADING

Your grade will be determined by your performance on the required papers as well as on weekly work comprised of quizzes and class discussion. Discussions are based not exclusively on personal opinions but on facts and opinions derived from the essays we read from our book and from handouts. You must be able to write satisfactory in-class essays in order to pass this class. Essays will be graded according to the following departmental standards.

GRADING SCALE

A 90-100% =exceptional work; superior in both style and content

B 80-89% =above average work; superior in content

C 70-79% =average work, good enough but not extraordinary

D 60-69% =below average work; mean mechanics, style, content

F 50-59% =failing work; deficient in mechanics, style and content

Attendance Policy: If you miss more than three classes your final grade will be lowered. Upon your fourth session absence, you will receive a failing grade for the course. If you are absent, please contact me before the absence or as soon as you can following the absence.

Tardiness: Because tardiness is disruptive to other students, excessive tardiness will result in a lowered course grade. If you are more than ten minutes late, I will count you tardy.

Late Work: No late homework will be accepted. If you will be absent, email your assignments when they are due. Essays are due on the due date stated in the syllabus. Should extenuating circumstances occur, and you have written documentation, I will allow you to turn in one essay late, but that essay is subject to a grade reduction. No essay will be accepted if it is more than one week late.

Participation: Participation is based upon submission of assignments and attendance. Each week an assignment is due. Participation will be graded on your submission of assignments, in general, and responding to questions from professors and students. The scale is as follows:

- 1 Missed Assignment / Communication = - 2 points
- 2 Missed Assignments / Communication = - 4 points
- 3 Missed Assignments / Communication = - 6 points
- 4 Missed Assignments / Communication = - 8 points
- 5 Missed Assignments / Communication = - 10 points

Academic Dishonesty:

Scholastic Dishonesty To view the Board policies associated with this section, go to <https://pol.tasb.org/Policy/Search/304?filter=flb>.

Every member of the Collin College community is expected to maintain the highest standards of academic integrity. All work submitted for credit is expected to be the student's own work. Collin College may initiate disciplinary proceedings against a student or prospective student accused of scholastic dishonesty. While specific examples are listed below, this is not an exhaustive list, and scholastic dishonesty may encompass other conduct, including any misconduct through electronic or computerized means. Scholastic dishonesty shall include, but is not limited to, one (1) or more of the following acts.

1. Cheating

includes, but is not limited to, having access to unauthorized materials or electronic, digital media, telecommunication, and/or wearable devices (i.e., phones, smart watches, Fitbits, Bluetooth devices, tablets, etc.) during an examination; the giving or receiving of information in an unauthorized manner during an examination or to complete an assignment; using, buying, selling, soliciting, stealing, or otherwise obtaining course assignments and/or examination questions in advance; using someone else's work for an assignment as if it were one's own; submitting or resubmitting an assignment in whole or in part (i.e., recycling an assignment) for more than one (1) class or institution without permission from each of the professors; using annotated texts or teacher's editions; using information about exams posted on the Internet or in any electronic medium; leaving a test site without authority; failing to secure test materials; removing tests or answer sheets from a test site; and any other dishonest means of attempting to fulfill the requirements of a course.

2. Collusion includes, but is not limited to, intentionally or unintentionally aiding or attempting to aid another in an act of scholastic dishonesty; failing to secure academic work; providing a paper or project to another student; providing an inappropriate level of assistance; unauthorized collaboration or communicating answers to a classmate about an examination or course assignment; and allowing a classmate to copy answers.

3. General Scholastic Dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, statements, acts, or omissions related to applications for enrollment, credit or class work, research, or the award of a degree; and/or falsifying academic records or documents. Students are expected to record honestly and accurately the results of all their research. Falsification of research results shall include misrepresentations, distortions, or omissions in data or reports on research.

4. Plagiarism includes, but is not limited to, intentionally or unintentionally failing to quote and cite an author's words, information, and/or ideas in accordance with American Psychological Association (APA) Style, Modern Language Association (MLA) Style, The Chicago Manual of Style (Chicago Style), or another citation style approved by the professor.

In cases where an incident report has been filed for an alleged violation of scholastic dishonesty, the faculty member shall delay posting a grade for the academic work in question until the case is final. A student found responsible for a scholastic dishonesty offense(s) shall receive an appropriate disciplinary penalty or penalties from the Dean of Students Office. The student may also receive an academic penalty in the course where the scholastic dishonesty took place. The faculty member shall determine the appropriate academic penalty, which may range from a grade of zero (0) on the assignment to failing the course.

Assignment Expectations: Please read the assignment before coming to class, and bring your dictionary to class. That way you'll be prepared for reading responses. It's also a good idea to read the coming week's assignments over the weekend, so that when we go over the material in class Monday you'll have the advantage of a second reading. Out-of-class essays are due at the start of class.

Paper Format: All papers are to be double-spaced. The mandatory heading must be in the upper left-hand corner of first sheet, the title centered, the paragraphs indented as follows:

Student's name

ENGL 1301 – (Section Number)

Instructor's Name

Date

Title of Essay

Indent the first paragraph and every paragraph thereafter. Use this format for all assignments. There will be an automatic 5 – 10 point deduction for each of the following items: (1) Missing/Erroneous headings, (2) Missing/ Generic titles, and (3) Non-double-spaced essays.

Research Proposal and Annotated Bibliography Process: Print and/or non-print periodicals and scholarly journals found in Collin College library databases (such as EBSCO and JSTORE) should be used for your research project (which includes the preliminary bibliography, annotated bibliography, and research proposal).

You will show competency in a research paper process of choosing and narrowing topics, collecting sources from indexes, creating a working bibliography, taking notes from sources, using sources in proper MLA formats, and providing proper documentation for those sources. The subjects for the research project will be selected from options assigned by the professor and discussed in class.

Essays: Essays should be approximately 650-1,000 words. Unless otherwise indicated, every essay should consist of a well-written, well-developed creatively constructed introduction and conclusion. The body paragraphs should be well developed and have a clearly stated topic sentence. Textual reference is required. Essays will be submitted electronically via Canvas.

Short writing: 100-300 words each. You will write several short assignments, both in class and out. Individual paragraph assignments (such as short answer responses) should be 100 words in length. Short essays consist of 3 paragraphs and are usually 200-300 in length.

Paper Submission Policy: All submissions must be delivered on time and directly to the professor (i.e., not left in mailboxes, with secretary, under office door, etc.). Staple or clip the pages together in the upper left-hand corner.

Tutoring: Free tutoring is available in the Writing Center. Check for full hours of operation.
