The 1989 Spring Break is from March 20 to 26 for students and teaching faculty. March 20 through 22 (Monday through Wednesday) are scheduled work days for all other District staff. Both campuses will be open until 7pm during those three days.

This is the first year that non-teaching staff are eligible for one day of holiday at Spring Break. However, this year the Friday of Spring Break falls on the same day as Good Friday, which is also a College holiday. Therefore, both campuses will be closed on Thursday, March 23, as well as the regular Friday through Sunday of Spring Break this year only.

Please communicate this information with any Student Assistants and/or part-time staff working in your departments. If you have questions, contact the Personnel Office, ext. 6660.

LATEST FROM THE LRC:

New Books in the SCC LRC include the following:

E. L. Doctorow

Billy Bathgate

Doctorow's latest best-seller concerns a brazen boy who has insinuated himself into the inner circle of Dutch Schultz, one of America's most murderous gangsters.

Abel Aganbegyan

The Economic Challenge of Perestroika

As Gorbachev's chief economic advisor, Aganbegyan is architect of the Soviet Union's restructuring.

Taylor Branch

Parting the Waters: America in the King Years

Here is the definitive record of the movement that realigned American politics and is still felt around the world.

Clive Barker

The Book of Blood

This brilliantly literate writer has raised the horror genre to a level of excellence it has not reached since Henry James tried his hand.

Doris Lessing

The Fifth Child

Doris Lessing is the author of more than twenty-five books. The Fifth Child is a parable of society's unwillingness to confront its own most brutal aspects.

Giorgio De Chirico

Hebdomeros

After his genius as a painter mysteriously evaporated, De Chirico created one of the finest surrealist books in Hebdomeros.

Dear Sir:

I am writing in response to your request for additional information. In block number 3 of the accident reporting form, I put quote - poor planning - unquote as the cause in my accident. You said in your letter that I should explain more fully, and I trust that the following details will be sufficient.

I am a bricklayer by trade. On the day of the accident, I was working alone on the roof of a new six story building. When I completed my work, I discovered that I had about 500 pounds of bricks left over. Rather than carry the bricks down by hand, I decided to lower them in a barrel by using a pulley which fortunately was attached to the side of the building, at the sixth floor.

Securing the rope at ground level, I went up to the roof, swung the barrel out, and loaded the bricks into it. Then I went back to the ground and untied the rope, holding it tightly to insure a slow descent of the 500 pounds of bricks. You will note in block number eleven of the accident reporting form that I weigh 135 pounds.

Due to my surprise to being jerked off the ground so suddenly, I lost my presence of mind and forgot to let go of the rope. Needless to say, I proceeded at a rather rapid rate up the side of the building.

In the vicinity of the third floor, I met the barrel coming down. This explains the fractured skull and broken collarbone.

Slowed only slightly, I continued my rapid ascent, not stopping until the fingers of my right hand were two-knuckles deep into the pulley.

Fortunately, by this time I had regained my presence of mind and was able to hold tightly to the rope in spite of my pain.

At approximately the same time, however, the barrel of bricks hit the ground -- and the bottom fell out of the barrel. Devoid of the weight of bricks, the barrel now weighed approximately fifty pounds.

I refer you again to my weight in block number eleven. As you might imagine, I began a rapid descent down the side of the building.

In the vicinity of the third floor, I met the barrel coming up. This accounts for the two fractured ankles and the lacerations of my legs and lower body.

The encounter with the barrel slowed me enough to lessen my injuries when I fell onto the pile of bricks and fortunately only three vertebrae were cracked.

I am sorry to report, however, that as I lay there on the bricks -- in pain, unable to stand, and watching the empty barrel six stories above me -- I again lost my presence of mind --

-- I LET GO OF THE ROPE --
