Student Learning Outcomes:
Because English 1302 focuses on research skills, students successfully completing the course should also be able to demonstrate the following:

A. Defend an informed position or argument within the context of a specific discipline with explanations and answers to relevant counterarguments.
B. Comprehend writing as a series of additional research tasks that include finding, evaluating, analyzing, and synthesizing appropriate primary and secondary sources.
C. Practice appropriate conventions of documenting their work with the MLA format.
D. Continue to build upon the Student Learning Outcomes for English 1301 –
   1. Students should be able to demonstrate rhetorical knowledge in the following ways:
      a. Read and interpret a prompt for a writing assignment.
      b. Write essays that take a position and successfully argue or defend that position.
      c. Write essays with appropriate evidence, discussion, and organization for a specific audience.
      d. Write essays with strong introductions and conclusions that represent sophisticated thought and writing.
      e. Write essays that use format, structure, tone, diction, and syntax appropriate to the rhetorical situation.
   2. Students should be able to demonstrate critical thinking, reading, and writing in the following ways:
      a. Use reading and writing for inquiry, learning, thinking, and communicating.
      b. Integrate their own ideas with those of others with clear distinction between the two.
   3. Students should be able to demonstrate knowledge of the writing process in the following ways:
      a. Be aware that it usually takes multiple drafts to create and complete a successful text.
      b. Develop and demonstrate flexible strategies for generating ideas, revising, editing, and proofreading.
c. Understand and utilize the collaborative and social aspects of writing processes by learning to critique their own and others’ work.

4. Students should be able to demonstrate knowledge of conventions in the following ways:
   a. Apply knowledge of genre conventions ranging from structure and paragraphing to tone and mechanics.
   b. Control such surface features as grammar, punctuation, and spelling.

The Instructional Technology Department at Collin College has created a link that can help you get a faster start in learning about the college’s new learning management system, Canvas. It gives contact information for the IT experts as well.

Students may take the orientation modules here
This course is on the Canvas platform. Canvas is an online environment which allows us to interact with each other and to access emails, discussions, and submission folders. It may take a few times of using it to understand it, but it will quickly become familiar. You may find this webpage https://community.canvaslms.com/docs/DOC-4121

Experience shows that students who participate in an orientation for their online courses are more likely to be successful. This orientation will provide you with information on:

* how to access your class
* technology requirements
* library resources
* where to get help once the semester gets started

If you have any Canvas problems, please call 972-881-5870 or eLC@collin.edu. Or go to L257 on the Spring Creek Campus.

Tutoring Services: face-to-face and online tutoring is available for students. Please see this webpage for details: https://www.collin.edu/studentresources/tutoring/index.html

Netiquette Expectations: This link explains the rules of courtesy and common sense for interaction in our course. Please take the netiquette quiz: Class Interaction and Netiquette.

Supplies: None

Attendance Policy: Not applicable, but participation from the first day of the course is required. To be counted on the Certification of the Rolls (attending class), students must have completed one assignment.

Additional Student Learning Outcomes:

* Be able to read and analyze texts in terms of language, quality of evidence, and structure of the arguments
• Demonstrate critical thinking skills (logic, reasoning, recognizing and avoiding fallacies),
• Write extended analytical essays, taking into account current scholarship in the area and the context in which it is presented,
• Demonstrate a variety of rhetorical strategies for invention, arrangement, and style,
• Demonstrate ability to apply methods of research and MLA documentation in a research paper, using both traditional and non-traditional techniques,
• Frame ideas using an international perspective
• Have participated in class discussions by responding in forums frequently, raising questions, supporting statements with references to readings, reading the forum comments of others, relating readings to own experience and knowledge, and encouraging other students to participate.
• Use technology for resources and for communication with professionals and non-professionals

Method of Evaluation/Assessment:
Evaluation: A relationship between competency completion and grades emerges in scores given for essays, research paper, labs, forums, and final exam. (Course Requirements). The following grading scale will be used to award grades at the end of the course:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Portfolio of three essays 300</th>
<th>800 Cumulative Point System</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Portfolio of Research 200</td>
<td>720-800 = A</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Final 150</td>
<td>640-719 = B</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Forum 5 X 10 = 50</td>
<td>560-639 = C</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Labs 100</td>
<td>480-559 = D</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Total 800</td>
<td>0-479 = F</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Grading Standards for Labs
Labs will be evaluated according to the depth of analysis and presentation of evidence demonstrating your points. Writing about expectations and assumptions prior to the reading, film, event, or community service and then the conclusions you drew afterwards will be important in your analysis.

Peer Critique (may be used for self-evaluation of essays)

Grading Standards for Essays in Rhetoric Courses (see points for research paper)

Adapted from the SMU Standards for Grading
Note: The areas of concern are listed in their order of importance. Weight distribution should reflect such designations in your grading criteria.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Areas of concern</th>
<th>Excellent (A)</th>
<th>Good (B)</th>
<th>Adequate (C)</th>
<th>Poor (D)</th>
<th>Failing (F)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Content</td>
<td>Significant/important controlling idea or assertion supported with concrete, substantial, and relevant evidence. Originality and creativity a plus.</td>
<td>Controlling idea or assertion supported with concrete and relevant evidence but neither is as significant and substantial as the A paper.</td>
<td>Controlling idea or assertion general, limited or obvious; some supporting evidence is repetitious, irrelevant, or sketchy</td>
<td>Controlling idea or assertion too general, superficial, or vague; evidence insufficient because obvious, contradictory or aimless</td>
<td>No discernible idea or assertion. Controls the random or unexplained details that make up the body of the essay.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Development</td>
<td>Order reveals a sense of necessity, symmetry, and emphasis; paragraphs focused and coherent; logical transitions reinforce the progress of the analysis or argument. Introduction engages initial interest; conclusion supports without merely repeating.</td>
<td>Order reveals a sense of necessity and emphasis; paragraphs focused and coherent; logical transitions signal changes in direction; introduction engages initial interest; conclusion supports without merely repeating.</td>
<td>Order apparent but not consistently maintained; paragraphs focused and for the most part coherent; transitions functional but often obvious or dull. Introduction or conclusions may be mechanical rather than purpose for the essay or insightful.</td>
<td>Order unclear or inappropriate, failing to emphasize central idea; paragraphs jumbled or underdeveloped; transitions unclear, inaccurate, or missing. Introduction or conclusions merely describes what is to follow; conclusion merely repeats what has already been said.</td>
<td>Order and emphasis indiscernible; paragraphs typographical rather than structural; transitions unclear, inaccurate, or missing. Neither the introduction nor the conclusion satisfies any clear rhetorical purpose.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Style</td>
<td>Sentences varied, purposeful, and emphatic; diction fresh, precise, economical, and idiomatic; tone complements the subject, conveys the authorial persona, and suits the audience.</td>
<td>Sentences varied, purposeful, and emphatic; diction precise and idiomatic; tone fits the subject, persona, and audience.</td>
<td>Sentences competent but lacking emphasis and variety; diction generally correct and idiomatic; tone acceptable for the subject.</td>
<td>Sentences lack necessary emphasis, subordination, and purpose; diction vague and unidiomatic; tone inconsistent with or inappropriate to the subject.</td>
<td>Incoherent, rudimentary, redundant sentences through nonstandard or unidiomatic, indiscernible or inappropriate to the subject.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Requirements for Participation in Online Discussion or Collaborative Activities:
Grading Standards for Forums/Discussions:
Students will be scored on the Canvas discussions/forums according to the thoroughness of their response, the presentation of evidence particularly from the readings, and the response to (confirmation or refutation) the comments of others in the class. Each forum is worth 10 points.

Delivery Method of Feedback and/or Graded Material:
CANVAS FOLDERS BY THE DEADLINE, or otherwise they will NOT be accepted.

- Mandatory Orientation: You will not be required to come on campus for an orientation. Instead do the following:
  Link to the Welcome to Course from the CANVAS platform and read all the information.

- Turn around time for returning papers is four days from the due date, for responding to emails is 24 hours, although efforts will be made to respond more quickly. Unforeseen circumstances may occasionally result in a greater lag time.
- Plagiarism may result in a grade of 0 on the paper and notification of the Dean of Students.
  The policy on honesty. points to students' need to be aware of the consequences, both short-term and long-term, of collusion, cheating, and/or plagiarism before they begin the course
- MEET DEADLINES: AFTER THE FOLDERS CLOSE, NO PAPERS WILL BE ACCEPTED because online classes are intense with assignments due frequently. The submissions and grading have to be timely to complete the course expeditiously and with everyone’s success in mind. If you encounter an emergency, email me in advance of the deadline to make special arrangements; otherwise, your paper will be considered late. Otherwise, because the deadlines are posted from the first day of the class, all students will be responsible for submitting their work into the folders. A backup option is built into the course with an extra essay and an extra forum, so no make-up or extra credit is available.

Course Calendar:

- Read assigned essays on Course Schedule
  Essays are in Current Issues and Enduring Questions.
- Write 7 essays Assignments (see below) (3 regular essays, one lab, one research paper worth 2 essays, and final exam). 5 electronic forum/discussions responses on Canvas
- Students read essays from text and respond to questions on the forum/discussions.
- Lab modules Labs

Essay Assignments

Essay 1 What is X?
Topic: Let X be—The Ideal Society
Research Question: What is the ideal society?

Essay 2 What is true about X?
Topic: Let X be—Individual's Obligation to Obey the State
Research Question: How free is the will of the individual within society?

Essay 3 What is good/right/beautiful or bad/wrong/or ugly about X?

Topic: Let X be--The current U.S. immigration policy. Another option is the prompt, “How do you view the Syrian refugee resettlement?” Research Question: What are the criteria for a good immigration policy? What is good about the U.S. immigration policy?

Essay 4 What should be done about X? If you missed one of the first three essays, you may write a full argument that gives your recommendation to solve a current issue.

Let X be--a current issue

Research Question: What should be done about this particular issue?

Essays 5 & 6 Research Paper

Write a recommendation argument.

Topic: Choose an interesting, current, controversial issue

Research Question: (for example: What should be done about sex trafficking in the US? Should guns be banned on college campuses? Should the U.S. immigration policy be altered? Should the US take a more aggressive position toward ISIS? Should drones strikes be used? Should the US admit Syrian refugees?)

Final Exam Essay 7: Final Exam

Topic: A current controversial issue that will be given to you the week before the final exam.

Schedule Fall 2018 BX2

Orientation:
1. Set up a profile page with your photo and short biographical sketch.
2. In addition, please link to the Biographical Profile and see the possible topics to use in your profile.
3. Read the "Welcome to the Course" linked from our syllabus homepage in lieu of an onsite orientation.
4. Please read the policy on academic honesty. We have had a problem with students borrowing sources from the internet, so students need to be aware of the consequences, both short-term and long-term, of collusion, cheating, and/or plagiarism before they begin the course.
5. This is an intensive course not for the faint-hearted or distracted. In 8 weeks you will celebrate your discipline if you exert it and persevere.
6. All essays and lab work MUST BE SUBMITTED INTO THE CANVAS FOLDERS BY THE DEADLINE, or otherwise they will not be accepted.
7. This course has a lab. Please read the options for the lab.

Schedule for Fall 2018

CODE on Syllabus: Blue is a lab due. Green is an electronic discussion post. Magenta is an essay due.

Week 1 – October 22-26

Please fill out an biographical profile and use a photograph on your profile. Send the profile to the class via Canvas email.

Work on research. Essay 4: Write a proposal with a recommendation to solve the problem you choose for your research topic. Your thesis will be your plan briefly summarized. Your evidence will demonstrate that your plan will solve the issue. If you need Essay 4, write a recommendation to solve a current issue. You may use the same topic as your research paper but for the latter will add the ten sources. (If you have only four forums, this is a make-up forum. If you already have five, you do not need to post).
Submit Optional Essay 4 (a recommendation due Tuesday, November 27 midnight. This essay will offer your solution to a world problem/issue. If you have not turned in one of the essays, you may write Essay 4 as a complete 750 word recommendation to exchange for the other essay you did not get into the folder. If you have completed all three of the other essays, you do not need to write the essay.
For those who want to learn the material covered in the non-express course, read about fallacies and conciliation.

Read about Fallacies, CIEQ, 368-81. Shulman's "Love Is A Fallacy" humorously applies the art of finding fallacies to life (CIEQ, 383-91).
OR Richard Nixon's Speech:  Senator Richard Nixon's Checkers Speech

Continue your research for paper. Work on your bibliography with at least ten scholarly sources; see 325 for a sample.

Read about Roger's Communication Theory, CIEQ, 392-400, This model for conciliation will help you to establish common grounds and grant points in your arguments.

Week 7– December 3-7

Continue research and linking to research sites and materials from this webpage. Begin a Working Bibliography, so that you may check your format before the submission of the research paper, especially avoiding the last minute attempt.

Read about quoting from sources: CIEQ 290-95; documentation, CIEQ, 295-313. Evaluation points for Research Paper
