Supplies

Textbook:

- The Norton Anthology of World Literature, Vol. A-C, 4th edition
- ISBN: 978-0-393-26590-3

Additional Materials:

- Course-specific folders/envelopes for organizing, pen(cils)
- Computer and internet for CougarWeb and Canvas access

Student Learning Outcomes

State Mandated Outcomes: Upon successful completion of this course, students will:

1. Identify key ideas, representative authors and works, significant historical or cultural events, and characteristic perspectives or attitudes expressed in the literature of different periods or regions.
2. Analyze literary works as expressions of individual or communal values within the social, political, cultural, or religious contexts of different literary periods. (Social Responsibility)
3. Demonstrate knowledge of the development of characteristic forms or styles of expression during different historical periods or in different regions.
4. Articulate the aesthetic principles that guide the scope and variety of works in the arts and humanities.
5. Write research-based critical papers about the assigned readings in clear and grammatically correct prose, using various critical approaches to literature. (Critical Thinking and Communication Skills)

Additional Collin Outcome: Upon successful completion of this course, students should be able to do the following:

1. Demonstrate personal responsibility through the ethical use of intellectual property. (Personal Responsibility)

Method of Evaluation: The Assignments

Completion of Course: Course Assignments

You will complete the course through a variety of learning activities to work with the literature selections—in a kind of choose your own adventure. You will also build research projects in teams, so please let me know if these dynamics are not working. If you find you are not mastering the material and skills, please talk with me ASAP.

Prep Work and Practice (45%): You earn “Prep Work & Practice” grades by fully completing the work, to the best of your ability in the time allowed, as if you are writing for yourself (to take notes and record ideas that you can follow along with).

- Team Building Exercise (5%): Complete the tasks related to your knowledge, Canvas, CougarWeb, and the course.
- Expedition Preparedness (15%): Complete required reading annotations, in-class writing, presentations, activities, and workdays. One half (7.5%) will be recorded in the first 8 weeks, and the second half (7.5%) will be recorded for the second 8 weeks.
- Exploration Check-Ins (20%): Complete 10 Canvas discussion posts related to your research work, readings, and interactions with fellow (literary) explorers’ findings. There will be two check-ins that happen in the semester, each worth 10%.
- Explorer Report I: The Importance of Recorded Language (5%): Complete the diagnostic reading and writing report for Unit I.

Major Grades (55%): You earn “Major Grades” by demonstrating your ability to write for others, emphasizing rhetorical awareness of organization, development, attribution, and accepted mechanical conventions.

- Explorer Report II: Recording Culture—Creation Stories (10%): Present the historical and cultural context for the selected story and its connections to unit big ideas. Includes professional research.
- Creative Project I: Creation Storybook (5%): Create a children’s storybook version of your assigned cosmogony. Completed in class.
- Explorer Report III: Recording Culture—Histories & Politics (15%): Present the historical and cultural context for the selected story and its connections to unit big ideas. Includes academic research.
- Explorer Report IV: Recording Culture—Morality & Ethics (10%): Present the historical and cultural context for the selected story and its connections to unit big ideas. Includes research.
- Creative Project II: Revised Heroics (5%): Create a revised version of your assigned epic hero, bringing the hero into contemporary America. Completed in class.
- MLA Format Quizzes (4 total) (10%): Complete quizzes related to MLA works cited and citation guidelines.

Late Work Policy

I will only accept late “Major Grades” assignments, with a 10-point penalty for each day late (to include anything submitted after in-class collection and with the weekend counting as one day). After a week, the assignment earns a zero with no make-up option. If you miss the turn-in date, you need to email an attachment of your work by the time class ends. You also need to bring the hardcopies of material by the next class meeting. Please let me know about excused absences ASAP.

Method of Evaluation: The Grading Scale

Earning Your Grades

The grade you earn includes a combination of your scores on all assignments during the term, worth 1000 points total; please note that some assignments carry more weight and thus have a larger impact on your course grade. To help you think of this course as an accumulation of a semester's worth of work, I set all grades in Canvas to 0 and update grades as we progress so that you see a better reflection of where your grade is going. Your final course grade reflects the below point breakdown:

A	895-1000 points	90-100%	D	595-694 points	60-69%
B	795-894 points	80-89%	F	0-594 points	0-59%
C	695-794 points	70-79%

Important Note: MBHS requires students earn a 70% or higher for course credit.

Getting Help with Writing

You have access to more writing help (for this class or any other) both in person and online. The College Writing Centers provide 30-60 minute sessions:

Attendance

Collin Policy: Class Attendance

"Students are accountable for their own academic progress and work. With that in mind, prompt submission of all work, according to the course calendar and syllabus guidelines, promotes student success" (Student Handbook 16).

Course Specifics: Attendance

Attending class regularly is the best way to succeed in this class. If you are absent, you are responsible for catching up and being ready for the next class meeting (see the schedule for work). If you are tardy, it is your responsibility to ensure that I have marked you present. Keep in mind, however, that students who arrive more than 30 minutes late will be marked absent. Three tardies count as one absence, and according to MBHS policy earn lunch detention.

Excused and Unexcused Absences:

The notation for "excused" or "unexcused" absences only affects the possibilities for make-up work and avoiding late penalties. If you have a dire emergency, please discuss this with me ASAP.

Withdrawal Policy

Dropping a class means that you remove yourself from the class up to the census date so that the class does not appear on your official transcript. The last date to drop this class is Monday, 10 September 2018.

Withdrawal from a class means that you remove yourself from the class after the census date. Withdrawn classes appear as a W on your official transcript but are not calculated in your grade point average. Please read the Spring 2018 Registration guide or contact the admissions office for information on how to withdraw. The last date from this class is Friday, 19 October 2018.

Americans with Disabilities Act

Collin College will adhere to all applicable federal, state, and local laws, regulations and guidelines with respect to providing reasonable accommodations as required to afford equal. It is the student's responsibility to contact the ACCESS office, CPC-D-118(I) or 972.548.6816 or V/TTD: 972.881.5950 in a timely manner to arrange for appropriate accommodations.

Class Conduct

Collin Policy Statement: Student Code of Conduct

Classroom Environment: "Students and professors at Collin College share a responsibility to promote, develop, and maintain a positive learning environment. Students are asked to show respect to other students and professors" (Student Handbook 16).

Electronic Device Use: "It is a violation of the Student Code of Conduct to engage in the disruptive use of electronic, telecommunication, digital media, and/or wearable devices during class, labs, or other Collin College learning environments. This includes social networking activities such as texting, talking on the phone, and Web browsing from laptops, smart phones, or any other relevant electronic devices during class time" (Student Handbook 16).

Classroom Distractions: "Sleeping in class, interfering with teaching by talking with other students during directed instruction, and preparing work for another class while engaged in classroom activities are behaviors that are both discourteous to other students and disruptive to the purposes of the course" (Student Handbook 16-17).

Course Specifics: Conduct

Please refrain from distracting and disturbing classroom behaviors, as outlined above. If three actions occur during a class period, I will ask you to leave. A second incident will result in a Dean of Students report and resulting proceedings. I will address all conduct concerns with MBHS counselors.

Scholastic Honesty & Integrity

Collin Policy Statement: Scholastic Dishonesty

"Every member of the Collin College community is expected to maintain the highest standards of academic integrity. All work submitted for credit is expected to be the student's own work. Collin College may initiate disciplinary proceedings against a student or prospective student accused of scholastic dishonesty. While specific examples are listed below, this is not an exhaustive list, and scholastic dishonesty may encompass other conduct, including any misconduct through electronic or computerized means. Scholastic dishonesty shall include, but is not limited to, one (1) or more of the following acts:

1. Cheating includes, but is not limited to, having access to unauthorized materials or electronic, digital media, telecommunication, and/or wearable devices (i.e., phones, smart watches, Fitbits, Bluetooth devices, tablets, etc.) during an examination; the giving or receiving of information in an unauthorized manner during an examination or to complete an assignment; using, buying, selling, soliciting, stealing, or otherwise obtaining course assignments and/or examination questions in advance; using someone else's work for an assignment as if it were one's own; submitting or resubmitting an assignment in whole or in part (i.e., recycling an assignment) for more than one (1) class or institution without permission from each of the professors; using annotated texts or teacher's editions; using information about exams posted on the Internet or in any electronic medium; leaving a test site without authority; failing to secure test materials; removing tests or answer sheets from a test site; and any other dishonest means of attempting to fulfill the requirements of a course.
2. Collusion includes, but is not limited to, intentionally or unintentionally aiding or attempting to aid another in an act of scholastic dishonesty; failing to secure academic work; providing a paper or project to another student; providing an inappropriate level of assistance; unauthorized collaboration or communicating answers to a classmate about an examination or course assignment; and allowing a classmate to copy answers.

3. General Scholastic Dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, statements, acts, or omissions related to applications for enrollment, credit or class work, research, or the award of a degree; and/or falsifying academic records or documents. Students are expected to record honestly and accurately the results of all their research. Falsification of research results shall include misrepresentations, distortions, or omissions in data or reports on research.
4. Plagiarism includes, but is not limited to, intentionally or unintentionally failing to quote and cite an author's words, information, and/or ideas in accordance with American Psychological Association (APA) Style, Modern Language Association (MLA) Style, The Chicago Manual of Style (Chicago Style), or another citation style approved by the professor.

In cases where an incident report has been filed for an alleged violation of scholastic dishonesty, the faculty member shall delay posting a grade for the academic work in question until the case is final. A student found responsible for a scholastic dishonesty offense(s) shall receive an appropriate disciplinary penalty or penalties from the Dean of Students Office. The student may also receive an academic penalty in the course where the scholastic dishonesty took place. The faculty member shall determine the appropriate academic penalty, which may range from a grade of zero (0) on the assignment to failing the course" (Student Handbook 96-97).

Course Specifics: The Ethical Use of Intellectual Property

To earn credit for work, all work must be yours and avoid the above-mentioned integrity issues. Because we are learning to properly attribute all work belonging to others, you may inadvertently misattribute your work through one of the above forms of scholastic dishonesty. To address the learning curve, I have outlined below the steps we will take in situations of scholastic integrity, whether deliberate copy/pasting or inadvertent misattribution:

Deliberate Copy/Pasting

Your assignment submission can be found partially or in full from another source with no clear attempt to attribute or engage with working with sources.

Consequences:

- 1st Issue: 0 on the assignment and reported to the Dean of Students
- 2nd Issue: Failing the course and reported to the Dean of Students

Inadvertent Misattribution

Your assignment is missing attribution (in text and/or works cited) and/or uses patch writing while showing deliberate attempts to credit sources in other places.

Consequences:

- 1st Issue: "Mandatory Revision" assigned (with a 0 grade placeholder) with a time frame for revision.
- 2nd Issue: 0 on the assignment and reported to the Dean of Students.
- 3rd Issue: Failing the course and reported to the Dean of Students.

FERPA

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 prevents me from speaking to anyone but you and authorized parties about course progress, so if you need to authorize parent(s)/guardian(s), you need to do this through a Collin authorization form.
