Light

Carla Kraft

You sometimes wonder what it's all about when life seems hard and no way's out
you want to run but you can't hide
so you hope and pray for the end of the night.

It's just a matter of time until you see darkness isn't real--it only seems to be.
Set your sights above the clouds,
embrace the silver laughter dancing your direction.

The answer's in you, with you, always leading subtle shades of light, perfect patterns weaving gently streaming, never fading, only changing colors.
Open up your eyes, high into the skies.

Open your eyes.
