PONDERANCE

Beth Turner Ayers
I chose to be here,
In the classroom,
Learning of Freud,
But my conscious
Seeps through glass
Into autumn’s warmth.
The peak of color –
The best it gets here.
I find pleasure
In this view
And I wonder What Freud would say?
What part of unconscious Finds meaning in fall?

I easily recognize Innuendo.
I am capable of Tawdry thought,
But this escaped me.
Perhaps it is anticipation Of swelling buds in spring,
Waiting to release new life.
Or perhaps the id
Is a product of some Over-imaginative Unconscious excuse
For obsessive thought.

I get home and the furniture is moved around.
I get a sick feeling in my gut. Sister and I drag and scrap the floor putting it all right again. Daddy doesn’t know.
You stand on the front steps and don’t even help.

Now you stop looking into our eyes. I close my own eyes and feel the world wobble beneath my feet. Now I know anything can be broken.
