I Remember Marian

SUSAN BLICK

It was just yesterday when you wore that blue dress I liked the one that matched your eyes and they were twinkling when you pulled the cookies from the oven I sat waiting at the table my legs dangling from the chair a tall cool glass of milk waited patiently with me for the mustache it would make on my upper lip
I looked at you while you blew on those sweet little circles not wanting them to burn my mouth You smiled at me when you gave me the plate with two cookies on it that wouldn't spoil my dinner

The afternoon sun streamed in the window and it lit up your face like you were the Madonna At that moment when the air was filled with the sweet scent of home and you were humming Nat King Cole
I couldn't have loved you more And now I know there will never be another like you
And no cookie will ever taste the same as the ones you baked on the day you wore
