There I bask in the in-betweeness...
 Of soothing, cool earth embracing me from behind,
 And warm, flower-scented air caressing me from above.
 My right hand reaches blindly into the grass.
 Plucking free a few blades, I bring them to my mouth and chew.
 Mmmmm...the grass is a savory blend of sweet and bitter.
 It tastes GREEN, and green tastes like...life!
 In the safety of Grandma's yard,
 I dare to close my eyes against the brightness of the sun,
 So brazenly exposed in the naked blue sky.
 I inhale. I exhale.
 My breath slows and deepens. I feel my heart
 Begin to beat in rhythm with the pulse of the earth.
 My hearing intensifies, magnifying the cacophony
 Of living beings vigorously celebrating the day with me.
 Bees humming, crickets chirping, grasshoppers fiddling,
 Birds singing, trees waving their arms and rustling their leaves.
 Their symphony flows deep into the very center of my being...
 I am in complete harmony with the universe.

Here,

In Northern Minnesota, summers are far too brief.
 Days such as these must be appreciated with purposeful intensity.
 The sensation of the sun's warmth upon my skin,
 The vivid sight, the heavenly scent of flowers, blooming,
 The sacred songs and sounds of life, living.
 The sensual feel and taste of luscious green, green, green grass.
 All must be absorbed into my body and soul's memory,
As I lay in communion with the light of the sun.
 So that I may be sustained through the long, cold winter
 That will surely arrive all too soon.
 Like the shotgun blast of a screen door, slapping shut.
